

ETSY + PINTEREST · 14 DAYS FROM LAUNCH

Etsy Planners: 14-Day Content Plan

Goal: 3 sales across the five planners in 14 days. Pinterest brings planner buyers; groups and short videos add the first visitors.

INSIDE

- Rules that keep posts welcome
- 14-day calendar with checkboxes
- 5 ready-to-post texts
- Pinterest pin copy (pin images in the pins folder)
- Results tracker
- Day 14 decision rules

Replace [GUMROAD LINK] / [ETSY LINK] with your real links before posting. Record every sale in Money OS → Revenue so the experiment shows real numbers.

Rules that keep posts welcome

- Read each group's rules first. Many only allow promotion on certain days or in a pinned thread. Follow them; a ban costs more than one post.
- Give first. Every post includes something useful on its own. The link is one line at the end.
- Say it's yours. "I made this" is honest and works better than pretending to be a customer.
- No fake claims: no invented sales numbers, reviews, "best seller" or fake deadlines.
- Answer every comment within a day. Questions in comments often turn into sales.
- One post per group per week at most. Spread posts across groups.

Day 14 decision rules

3+ sales	Target hit. Mark the experiment validated. Make 2-3 more variations of the best-selling planner (Etsy rewards shops with more listings in a niche).
1-2 sales	Watch. Extend 7 days; pin the top listing daily and improve the other listings' first photo.
0 sales, under 200 Etsy views	A traffic problem. Keep pinning (Pinterest can take weeks to pick up) and post in more groups.
0 sales, 200+ views and favorites	Interest but no buying. Test the price ($4.99) or a clearer first photo for 7 days, then decide validated or killed.

Decide from recorded numbers only. Then mark the experiment validated or killed in Money OS → Experiments, with a one-line result note.
